Uncrating must be done immediately and within your area. Crates can be stored by Excel Decorators, Inc. All loading, unloading, and storage (Drayage) is charged to the company or the line group. If you contract to have a display unloaded or loaded, you will be charged.

All displays, crating, etc. must be placed as to allow passage of vehicles to their designated area. Show management will request the moving of any obstruction to ensure the vehicles move in according to the move-in schedule. CADA is not responsible for the set up or tear down of displays in your space. If any crates remain in an area and have not been contracted to be removed and stored, the Auto Show Committee will order them removed and stored by the decorator, and your line group will be responsible for all charges. Excel Decorators will be on site and can be hired to set up displays if needed or you can call Excel in advance at (317) 856-1300.

All literature may be brought into the show one (1) hour prior to opening each day. No deliveries are allowed during show hours. Literature cannot be stored where the public can see it. Line groups must arrange with the decorator for delivery of literature if it is not carried into the building by the line group personnel (this applies to booth rentals also). The decorator does charge drayage for literature sent to the building.

Once the vehicles are in place, each line group is requested to have two (2) sets of keys for each vehicle, one for the auto show office and one for the decorator.

The city fire inspector will be checking all of the above areas throughout the auto show! For more detailed information regarding the procedures for checking-in display vehicles, please see the attached memorandum.

If any line needs to be set up in the evenings, please contact Excel Decorators to arrange times. Cleaning of Vehicles

Cleaning of vehicles is the responsibility of each line group. Personnel with auto show badges for daily cleaning of vehicles may enter the hall two (2) hours prior to opening of the show each day. If any line group fails to provide daily cleaning for the vehicles in their space, the Auto Show Committee reserves the right to have said vehicles cleaned and charge the line group for cleaning of vehicles.
